IRISH REPORT NOT READY.

BUT TRUCE CONTINUES.

LONDON May 5.
The Dail Eireann has adjourned till Wednesday, as the report of the peace committee is not ready. The truce meanwhile continues.

INDIA

SCHEMES OF RETRENCHMENT.

SIMLA, May 5.
The Indian Government is actively engaged in a preliminary examination of schemes for retrenchment in civil and military expenditure.

SHIPYARD STRIKE OFF.

MAJORITY NOT BIG ENOUGH.

LONDON, May 5.
It is officially announced that the shipyard strike threatened on April 4 has been called off. The executive of the shipyard men's union decided that the majority in the ballot for non-acceptance of the employers' offer was insufficient to justify the continuance of the strike.

RUBBER GAMBLERS.

WANT GOVERNMENT TO HEDGE FOR THEM.

LONDON, May 5.
A meeting of the Rubber Shareholders' Association passed a resolution approving the principle of governmental action with the object of restoring the price of rubber to at least the approximate average cost of production and urging a conference of traders in every section for the purpose of taking steps to bring about as far as practicable the stabilisation of the price at an economic level.

THE TARIFF PROTECTION MANIA.

TEA BROKERS DISSATISFIED.

LONDON, May 5.
The Mincing Lane market is disposed to criticise the manner in which the reduction of the tea duty was effected. It is pointed out that one result is to reduce the preference on empire tea from two-pence to one penny and a third. This was reflected in a stronger market at this week's auctions of Java tea.

THE EARL OF DOUBT.

BALFOUR'S NEW RANK.

LONDON, May 5.
Arthur Balfour is gazetted an earl.

ATHLETICS.

SCHOOLS' SPORTS.

ST. PAUL'S CHAMPIONS.

The annual athletic sports meeting of the Hongkong Schools was held at the Racecourse yesterday afternoon. With a view to discouraging "pot-hunting," a very useful reform was made, the committee responsible for the arrangements deciding not to present trophies. Instead, points were awarded for each win and place to the school to which the successful competitor belonged. At the conclusion of the meeting the school securing the highest number of points is recognised as the season's champion in athletics, and gold medals will be presented to each winner for the winning school. The experiment proved successful and the rivalry between the various competing schools was as keen as in previous years. St. Paul's College won the highest number of points in the meeting which consisted of eight test events and an old boys' race for which, of course, points were not awarded. The other competing schools were Diocesan Boys' School, Queen's College, St. Stephen's College, Wah Yan School and Ying Wah College. St. Joseph's College had withdrawn from the competition.

His Excellency the Governor, who was in favour of the new experiment, was present and afterwards distributed the medals to the winners of St. Paul's College.

Mr. F. A. Britton explained with regard to the change, that as now so many schools held their own sports meeting, it was thought advisable now to hold this meeting on the lines of an inter-school competition and not for individual trophy-winning. With only one exception - St. Joseph's - all the schools which had decided in favour of the change, had competed that afternoon. St. Joseph's had written in regretting their inability to enter any competitors. Amongst the reasons of this contest:-

In asking His Excellency to distribute the awards, Mr. B. Tanner, Headmaster of Queen's College, thanked H.E. for attending, and remarked on the keen interest he had taken in all branches of sports. Mr. Tanner announced amid great applause that H.E. had promised to present a challenge shield to be competition for the connection with this annual meet.

H.E. the Governor said he would like to say how thoroughly he sympathised with and endorsed the views of those who had decided to replace the old system of individual prizes by marks for school competition. The one real objection to track athletics of this kind was that they tended to individualistic performance; it was very difficult to avoid that, and so that form of athletics did not have the advantage of organised games. When that objection was got rid of by converting the sports into competitions between various bodies one had one of the finest sports in existence. He was very glad that the schools had taken this line; as the Director of Education recently remarked, the giving of awards was to be reduced to the minimum. He was sure these medals would be much more popular.

and that the boys who had secured the victory for St. Paul's would be prouder of that fact than of any individual silver cup which they might have won for themselves.

THE RESULTS.

The following were the results of the contests:-

100 Yards - 1. A. L. Ramaiah (Queen's College); 2. Lam Yuk Yung (St. Paul's); 3. Kwok Sim (St. Paul's). Time: 10.9-10.8sec.

CHINA'S TROUBLES.

DR. WELLINGTON KOO
INTERVIEWED.

NORTH AND SOUTH.

HOPE FOR UNITY ONCE MORE.

Dr. Wellington Koo, China's Ambassador to Great Britain, arrived here this morning on the P. & O. liner "Khyber" on his way from London to Peking. Accompanied by Madame Koo and their three children, also by three secretaries, Messrs Sun Chao and Yang, the Ambassador is returning to China partly on business and partly on pleasure.

The "Khyber" departed at Kowloon early this morning. His Excellency was met shortly before nine o'clock by Sir Robert Ho Tung who escorted him to the Hongkong Hotel where he now has rooms. Here His Excellency received Mr. R. H. Kotwall, who having received a telegram from the Singapore Consul General, Mr. Lo Chung, called to pay his respects and those of the Chinese General Chamber of Commerce and to explain that the sudden death of the Chairman, the Hon. Mr. Lau Chi-pai, had made it impossible to organize any official welcome.

About 10.30 Dr. Koo motored to Government House to pay an official call on H.E. the Governor.

Dr. Koo has dinner at Government House and this evening dines with Sir Robert Ho Tung. He continues his journey North to-morrow.

AMBASSADOR - INTERVIEWED.

CHINA AND THE WASHINGTON CONFERENCE.

Interviewed by a China Mail reporter this morning, Dr. Koo said that he was sailing to-morrow by the "Khyber" for Shanghai, where he would spend some little time with his mother. He would then proceed to Peking, not so much to report to the Government as regarding the Washington Conference as the Government had already received a report from the other Chinese delegate, Lat to participate in a general consultation concerning measures for giving effect to the Washington Conference decisions.

Asked to express his opinion, on the work of the conference, Dr. Koo said he considered it had accomplished a good deal for China.

But not all that you hoped? asked the reporter.

There are still some questions outstanding replied Dr. Koo. There were some questions which were not entirely settled.

How did he think these outstanding questions would be settled?

"The problems which China faces in foreign affairs," replied the Ambassador, "are problems which have arisen in the course of eighty years. Therefore it could not be expected that they could be solved at a single conference. What we did expect was that the conference should make an earnest beginning to help China to rehabilitate herself through the recovery of the rights and privileges which have been taken away from her in certain matters. And that, of course, was what the conference did."

These outstanding problems, how do you think they will be settled?

"The Washington Conference's work was important," replied Dr. Koo, "but still more important was the precedent it established. It has opened the way for similar conferences in the future to deal with problems like the Far East."

LEAGUE OF NATIONS.

Referring to the League of Nations, the Ambassador said that while the Washington Conference had a definite programme, including the limitation of naval armaments, the League was a general organization for the promotion of international peace. The League, as it is, is serving a very good cause—the cause of international understanding and world peace. However, in order to accomplish its real object, which is the maintenance of world peace, the League must make itself really and truly a world organization. As it stands, several important powers are not members—the United States, Russia, and Germany. With these big nations remaining outside the authority and power of the League must necessarily be correspondingly limited."

CHINA'S CIVIL WAR.

China's internal troubles were next mentioned. Dr. Koo had already learned the news of Chang Te-hin's crushing defeat. "Do you think that with Wu Pei-fu in the ascendant in the North and Sun Yat-sen in power in the South, the pair might make a working team for the unity of China?" asked the reporter.

The Ambassador smiled his courtly smile. "We have had so little news events have been moving so swiftly that without all the elements carefully weighed I feel I could not express an intelligent opinion regarding the immediate outcome."

Then the ultimate outcome? "Personally, I am an optimist and I hold great hopes for China's future. These political troubles can only be temporary. They are more or less inevitable in any process of political reconstruction, especially reconstruction of such a fundamental nature as a change from an ancient monarchy to a modern republic."

There can be no doubt as to the eventual outcome of this momentous process of transformation, namely certain consolidation and unity."

Then you consider it merely a matter of time until China is once more reunited and untroubled?

"Yes, I do. Our Chinese history shows that it is unmistakably.

the people in China are very homogeneous. Whether in the North or South they have the same religion, the same civilisation, the same culture."

For example," added Dr. Koo, in conclusion, "any important foreign question always finds opinion in China unit."

BRILLIANT CAREER.

AMBASSADOR AT TWENTY-SEVEN.

Mr. Wellington Koo is a remarkable and fortunate young man.

When he was twenty-four he was a power in Peking. At twenty-seven he was appointed Chinese Minister to Washington, probably the youngest man ever given so high a post. At the age of thirty-two he went to London as Ambassador with his family return in three continents. His rise is a romance of statesmanship.

Born in Shanghai, he early came under western influences and was educated at St. John's College, the famous missionary establishment there. Then he went to the United States, and in due course entered Columbia University. He was the star man of his time, a leader among the students, one of the editors of the college magazine, and a brilliant scholar. He took a string of high post-graduate degrees at Columbia and Yale.

He returned to China, married the daughter of Tang Shao-yi, the former Premier, and was appointed secretary to President Yuan Shih-kai and secretary to the Cabinet.

His appointment to Washington when he was only twenty-seven (or according to Chinese reckoning, 28) seemed incredible to the older diplomats. In China, age and experience are held in high esteem.

But the "boy" statesman was so successful that he remained at Washington until he left to act first as chief Chinese delegate at the Assembly of the League of Nations and then as Minister to London.

When the Paris Peace Conference was called China sent five delegates, including her Foreign Minister. But after a few days it was found that only two really counted. Wellington Koo and a southern delegate, C. T. Wang. The other delegates said that Wang was the hard fighter and Koo was the keen brain of the combination.

What is the secret of Mr. Koo's success? He has very unusual intellectual qualities, combined with a manner of great personal charm. He rarely looks even his thirty-two years. He seems the spirit of youth incarnate. Observers sometimes at first get the idea of agreeableness rather than of strength. But when they come up against him they find that he has a mind like a steel trap and a will that drives things through.

Mr. Koo married for a second time last autumn. His wife, the daughter of a Java sugar king, made her first public appearance at Geneva. She won the hearts of everyone by her grace and charm.

"No man could help succeeding," one delegate remarked, "with a wife like that."

BABY KOO'S TRAVELS.

Baby Koo is on his travels once more. Baby Koo, or Kai Yuen, as he is officially known, is the few-weeks-old son of Dr. Wellington Koo. Kai Yuen has already had a trip across the Atlantic, as he was born at Washington while his father was attending the Washington Conference. By the time he reaches China he will have travelled at the rate of 1,000 miles for every week of his life.

His father has decided that he shall keep his name "Kai Yuen," which means "New Era" all his life. There is a Chinese custom which decrees that the name of the child shall be chosen by the head of the family—in this case a relative in China—but Kai Yuen, being born at such a significant time, seemed to call for special treatment, and he was named "New Era."

NORTH CHINA WAR OVER.

CHANG TSO-LIN ESCAPES TO MUKDEN.

FENGTEIN ARMY'S DISORDERLY RETREAT.

PEKING, May 5.

Chang Tso-lin has fled to Mukden. The Fengtien army is retreating in disorder towards Tientsin. Hostilities are believed to be ended.

WAR IN THE NORTH.

TIENSIN, May 5.

Five train-loads of defeated soldiers from Fengtien arrived at Tientsin Central late last night, causing considerable Chinese and foreign apprehension. French reinforcements were sent to the station. The trains remained at the station during the night to complete railway disorganization, but no looting and no disorder were reported. The Chihli forces are also persistently claiming victory at Machang; they state an encircling movement is proceeding towards Tongku with the object of cutting off all Fengtien forces, but there is no confirmation of this statement.—Pacific Service.

TROOPS PROCEEDING HOMeward.

TIENSIN, May 5.

So far only four troop trains passed Tientsin East bound for Chunkan-chien, but they were packed, the troops sitting on the roofs, buffets and couplings of the carriages, apparently cheerful and saying that they were going home without attempting looting.

Chinese and foreign pickets are preventing any of the troops from leaving the station.

Yang I-teh was at the East Station this morning seeing his order being carried out.

Chang Tso-lin's forces reached Laofa in utter rout, and firing is said to be occurring indiscriminately there.—Pacific Service.

CASUALTIES.

PEKING, May 5.

It is impossible yet to estimate the total captured Fengtien troops at Shangting, but the Chihli casualties for the 24 hours preceding its fall was 1,200.

It is estimated that the Fengtien forces suffered 2,000 slightly wounded, all of whom were entrained.

The Fengtien forces proceeding to Suaiyuan consisted of the Sixteenth Division, which was formerly stationed at Chahar. General Ma Fu-hsiang, a Chihli adherent, is preparing a hot reception for them at Suaiyuan. They will probably detrain at Kalgan.

Scattered groups were disarmed in the region of Peking.

A Chihli Brigade which reached Huangtun were thoroughly tired out.

A continuous stream of Fengtien troops probably from the middle front, are proceeding eastward on foot along the Peking-Mukden railway between Laofa and Tientsin.

JAPANESE LIGHT CRUISER FOR CHINWANGTAO.

TOKYO, May 5.

The Japanese light cruiser Chitima was despatched for Chinwangtao from Chemulpo to-day.—Pacific Service.

EXTRAVAGANT WIVES.

HUSBANDS RUINED TO BUY CLOTHES AND JEWELS.

"The United States is full of shiftless, extravagant wives, who are steering their husbands into jail," declared Judge Gibbs, a New York county court justice, in ordering the discharge of a frail-looking, shabby little man, charged with receiving stolen goods.

The man told the court that a constant struggle to make ends meet caused him to succumb to temptation. The judge's homily was addressed to the man's wife, who attended the court expensively dressed in a fur coat and wearing a quantity of jewels.

CROUP.

This disease is so dangerous and so rapid in its development that every mother of young children should be prepared for it. It is very risky to wait until the attack of croup appears and then send for medicine and let the child suffer until it can be obtained. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is prompt and effectual and has never been known to fail in any case. Always have a bottle in the home. For sale by all Chemists and Storekeepers.

V. R. C. ANNUAL GENERAL MEETING.

The annual meeting of the Victoria Recreation Club was held last evening at the Club.

The Hon. Mr. Claud Severn, who presided mentioned that the meeting was being held earlier this year, as the honorary secretary, Mr. R. C. Witchell, was leaving in a few days and he (the Chairman) would be leaving the Colony for a short time. The accounts were very satisfactory and the Chairman thought members should be very grateful to the officials and those who had served on the committees, for the interest they had taken in their duties and the successful result attained.

The Chairman then asked the members to stand whilst he referred to the deaths of two members during the past year. The first was that of Mr. William McLeod whom he knew very well; the other was that of Mr. A. A. Baptista. Mr. Severn then went on to say how grieved they were to hear of the death during the past few days of the Hon. Mr. Lau Chu-pak. Mr. Lau Chu-pak had given most valuable assistance to the Club many times and had presented a Championship Cup for competition at the recent regatta. He proposed that a vote of sympathy be expressed to the relatives of the deceased gentleman. The resolution was passed, the members standing.

The Chairman said he was sorry they had never had an opportunity of expressing their thanks to Mr. R. E. Bellios for his generous gift to the Club in defraying the cost of the room in which they were then assembled. The cost was approximately $4,000, and the Chairman was sure they would like to take that opportunity of thanking Mr. Bellios for his handsome gift.

Referring to the accounts for the year, Mr. Severn said they had had a most successful time. In the profit and loss account they had written off a number of large sums and at the present moment they had something like $3,000 in the bank. The Club had never been in such a flourishing condition before and the committee proposed to make the most of the opportunity by paying off the debentures which were outstanding. During the next year they contemplated a slight extension of the premises. They wished to enlarge the swimming bath. This would be rather an expensive item but if they could get rid of the debentures they would probably be able to face it.

The Chairman then referred to an item in the balance sheet and that was "accounts receivable," which amounted to $3,806.40. This he said was not a very satisfactory item as a large proportion of the amount were bar debts. However, he was pleased to say that a portion of the amount outstanding had been received since the balance sheet had been closed. He would prefer that a cash system at the bar be adopted in place of the present method. He wanted the sense of the meeting on the matter. The Chairman then suggested two systems which might be adopted. The first was, that each member deposit a certain sum of money for refreshment with the Club and as soon as that was exhausted refreshments should be refused. On the other hand he suggested the use of books of tickets which could be purchased at the bar for cash. If this system was adopted there would be no bad debts. (Applause.)

The Chairman continued that he was extremely glad to hear that applause, because when he made the proposal some time ago it did not seem to go down very well. He was glad to see there was more or less general agreement, and he thought they should bring the proposal forward at another meeting. He proposed that at that meeting they should make all arrangements to introduce a system, say, from July 1, and that all outstanding accounts be collected before that date so that they could start clear from the middle of the year.

Mr. G. W. Sewell asked if they had no rule by which a defaulter might be posted or expelled, and if that was ever carried out.

The Chairman replied that he did not think the rule was carried out.

Mr. Sewell thought it should be.

The Chairman quite agreed. The privilege had been abused.

By a show of hands, the meeting expressed itself in favour of the Chairman's suggestion.

Mr. Severn next referred to the excellent work done by the committee during the year especially the splendid services rendered by Mr. Witchell. (Applause.) Mr. Witchell's whole soul was in the work. He was here, there and everywhere, and he was sure that the success of the entertainments were entirely due to his efforts. Mr. Witchell was going away shortly but Mr. McKirdy had promised to fulfil the secretary's duties during his absence. Regarding the Interport Aquatic festival of last September they were extremely indebted to the Shanghai Team for their presence. The meeting was a great success. The Club had won by a good many points, but it might very well have been the other way. Some of their best men could not come down. They had received an invitation to visit Shanghai this year and they hoped to send a team to compete there.

Mr. Severn then referred to the splendid work done by Sir Paul Chater for many years past and as an appreciation of his many kindnesses he proposed that Sir Paul be appointed a life member of the Club.

Mr. Bellios seconded, and the motion was carried with applause.

Mr. J. Smith drew attention to the item in the Profit and Loss Account, viz., Bad Debts $1,700 odd. This was very bad, especially as the V.R.C. was a sporting club, the speaker thought—(hear, hear)—and if there were any members present whom the cap fitted they had better put it on.

PEARSON MEMORIAL.

LETTER FROM LADY PEARSON.

The following message from Lady Pearson, St. John's Lodge, Regent's Park, London, N.W.1, has been forwarded to the China Mail by the Colonial Secretary.

The one great solace that has sustained me since my husband's death has been the thought that out of my own loss should arise a memorial fund which should carry on for all time the great work which he has done.

Queen Alexandra, who always gave her full support to all my husband's endeavours, has written to me expressing her most earnest wish to become Patroness of this Fund and telling me of her heart-felt gladness that such a Fund should be created.

Letters and telegrams have poured in upon me from every corner of the World, expressing this same desire with all the sympathy that mankind can show.

THE ARTHUR PEARSON MEMORIAL FUND.

St. John's Lodge, Regent's Park, London is now in existence.

Of this Fund one-third will be devoted to St. Dunstan's, for the care and after-care of the men who were blinded in the War—these brave ones who gave their very eyes in their country's hour of need. By arrangement we mean the purchasing for them of their raw materials, the sending to them to sell their produce and doing all we can to make their lives run smoothly for them.

One-third will be given to the National Institute for the Blind—an organisation whose influence is felt all over the Empire, which cares for and helps the civilian blind—bringing back thousands from the despondency of darkness to the joys of active life.

And one-third will be divided among all other recognised Blind Charities throughout the Empire, who also do so much to help the Blind folk on their way.

Before these divisions are made, 2½ per cent will be deducted from the total for the Fresh Air Fund, which was Sir Arthur's first charity.

All who knew him knew of his love for little children, and his first great public work was to send thousands of these little ones from the squalor of our slums for a holiday in the country.

The donations to all these funds will be a lasting and practical memorial of one who brought the breath of life to all for whom and with whom he worked.

I know that I will not be calling on deaf ears when I ask you to show some practical way your approbation of the work which he has done.

LITTLE COMFORTS.

"Little comforts beget much happiness," says the old adage, and surely no better title than "little comforts" could be applied to Pinkettes, the dainty luxuries with the great reputation.

As gently as nature Pinkettes restore comfort to sufferers from constipation, biliousness, sick headaches. They regulate the liver, clear the skin, purify the breath, are not habit forming and neither gripe nor purge.

Try them to-night; you'll feel better in the morning. Druggists everywhere sell Pinkettes, or post free, 50 cents each from Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., 96 Szeneh Road, Shanghai.

The Chairman was given three hearty cheers as he left; those present also singing "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow."

One of the greatest religious migrations since the days of Moses now is in progress. From Canada to their new homes in Mexico 20,000 members of the Mennonite faith are travelling. Members of the sect were ordered by their bishops to sell their Canadian holdings, after the Mennonite leaders and the Government had come to legal blows. This photo shows a group of the tribe and typifies the majority.

Because Vilhjalmur Stefansson, Arctic explorer, planted a flag on Wrangel Island last September, this territory has been claimed as part of the Dominion of Canada by right of exploration. Wrangel Island dominates Northeastern Siberia, as shown by this map. Stefansson claimed the island as British territory with a view to its eventually being transferred to Canada as a part of the Dominion.
